Update to Water Main Break

Harrisonburg, VA – The Public Utilities Department, Public Works Department, and other contractors continue working in the area of Port Republic Road and South Main Street after a water main break.

Crews with the Public Utilities Department have repaired the break in the cast iron pipe and all water is restored to customers in this area.

Due to the significant damage done to the pavement, the next phase of repair is to conduct a milling and paving operation.

Milling is the process of removing eight to ten inches of pavement to ensure that all of the damaged asphalt is removed and the base stone is reestablished. Once that is complete, crews will repave this area.

Motorists should continue avoiding this area throughout the remainder of the day. It is anticipated that this intersection will be open by this evening.
