Try Harrisonburg Transit

Harrisonburg, VA – This week the Harrisonburg Department of Public Transportation (HDPT) is encouraging members of the public to try the transit services provided in Harrisonburg.

As part of a statewide campaign, the Virginia Department of Rail and Public Transportation (DRPT) is sponsoring “Try Transit Week” from September 15-19. This is a time to discover the public transit system within the community you live.

HDPT has forged a special partnership with The Arc of Harrisonburg and Rockingham County in assisting those with intellectual and developmental disabilities on riding public transportation. Staff members with The Arc will be assisting folks, who participate in their programs, this week with getting on and off a transit bus and transferring from one bus to another.

“We are excited to work with staff from The Arc in helping members of our community feel more comfortable riding the transit buses,” said Avery Daugherty, HDPT Transit Superintendent.

Anyone interested in trying Harrisonburg transit is encouraged to visit www.HarrisonburgVA.gov/HDPT or call 540-432-0492.

The City of Harrisonburg is centrally located in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. It is home to approximately 50,000 people. More information about the City of Harrisonburg is online at www.HarrisonburgVA.gov.
