HRECC to Host Career Night

Harrisonburg, VA – The Harrisonburg-Rockingham Emergency Communications Center (HRECC) is hosting a career night on Monday, November 9. This event will provide information and a firsthand look at the career of emergency communications for any person who may be seeking a career in this field.

Staff members from the HRECC will be on hand to answer questions, provide information, and offer guided tours of the facility for attendees. Personnel from the city's Human Resource Department will also be in attendance to review the benefits program offered to full-time HRECC personnel.

The event will take place in the HRECC, which is located in Harrisonburg's Public Safety Building, 101 North Main Street on the 5th floor.

Career Night will run from 6:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m. on November 9. Employee recruitment for full-time basic communicator careers is currently active and interested parties may apply online at www.HarrisonburgVA.gov/hrecc-employment.

HRECC looks forward to hosting this night and we encourage all interested parties to stop by for a first-hand look to determine if this career is right for you!

More information about HRECC is available at www.HarrisonburgVA.gov/hrecc.
