HRECC Recruiting Team Members

Harrisonburg, Va. – The Harrisonburg-Rockingham Emergency Communications Center (HRECC) is recruiting individuals who want to make a difference in the community.

HRECC is currently seeking qualified candidates to fill the position of a basic communicator on a full-time basis. These careers offer paid on the job training, a competitive salary, and comprehensive benefits package.

“This field of work can at times be a challenge but is always a very rewarding career,” explained Dee Dee Sencindiver, operations manager at HRECC. “Our team members serve as the first, first responder in a variety of emergencies throughout the community and it is our job to be the calm in the chaos.”

Communicators are cross-trained in all specialties of dispatching and are assigned as call takers, law enforcement radio operators, and fire/EMS radio operators.

HRECC provides a critical link between the public and emergency personnel in the field. The 9-1-1 center is equipped with state-of-the-art technology systems and highly trained staff members to assist in career development and training. Those in this career make a difference in the lives of others every day.
