HRECC Promotes Master Communicator

October 18, 2016

Harrisonburg, VA – The Harrisonburg-Rockingham Emergency Communications Center (HRECC) is pleased to announce the promotion of Senior Communicator Alyssa Hottinger to the position of master communicator.

Alyssa began her career in emergency communications in 2011 and since that time has excelled in all aspects of her job. She currently serves as a certified training officer providing high level instruction to newly hired HRECC employees and she is a member of the Telecommunications Emergency Response Team (TERT) and the Virginia Communications Cache.

Alyssa was named the 2015 HRECC Communicator of the Year for her unselfish approach to her job and the high level of service she provides to the citizens and public safety providers in our area.

As master communicator, Hottinger will serve as the assistant shift supervisor of her assigned shift and will provide daily oversight to her group of employees.

“We are very proud to have Alyssa as a part of our management team,” said Jim Junkins, HRECC director.

“Alyssa will bring a great attitude and new ideas to this position,” added Dee Dee Sencindiver Operations Manager.

Hottinger’s promotion is effective October 30, 2016.
