City Participates in Great American Campout

Harrisonburg, Va. – The city of Harrisonburg’s Parks and Recreation Department will join many other families across the nation for the annual Great American Campout, which is presented by the National Wildlife Federation.

The Great American Campout is part of an initiative to get more kids outdoors and create a generation of children with more awareness and connection to the natural world.

“We are excited to host this event as an opportunity to bring members of our community together outdoors,” explained Erik Dart, Parks and Receptions athletic program supervisor.

In the city, the local campout will be held at Hillandale Park and advance registration is required. There will be activities and fun for all ages, including a group campfire!

Additional information and registration information is available at www.HarrisonburgVa.gov/great-american-campout.

The City of Harrisonburg is centrally located in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. It is home to almost 55,000 people. More information about the City of Harrisonburg is online at www.HarrisonburgVA.gov.
