HDPT Rolls Out Improved Technology and App

Harrisonburg, Va. – The Harrisonburg Department of Public Transportation (HDPT) is rolling out its latest technology upgrade that will benefit riders and staff members.

In March, HDPT started the process of replacing its intelligent transportation systems (ITS) and selected AVAIL Technologies to complete the project.

This solution provides customers with real-time transit system information and alerts to changes in service. Customers are able to text, visit the website, or download the free app to monitor the times of when buses are due to arrive or if they are running late.

This technology upgrade will allow more options for riders and staff members will now be able to collect more data than before.

The newest version of HDPT's ITS has been installed on all 39 transit buses. To view the buses online, visit <https://ride.hdpt.com> or download the free myStop app on your smartphone.

HDPT riders are reminded to use this official app. Other apps have been created in the past but are not affiliated with or supported by HDPT. They do not provide updated and reliable information and often charge a fee.

Additional information on the overall operations of HDPT and bus schedules can be found at www.HarrisonburgVa.gov/hdpt.
