Nighttime Paving to Take Place Starting Sunday

Harrisonburg, Va. – The city of Harrisonburg’s Public Works Department will oversee paving that will begin this weekend.

Starting Sunday, November 5 around 7:00 p.m., crews will start paving along Martin Luther King, Jr. Way. Main Street, from Martin Luther King, Jr. Way to Grattan Street, will also be repaved.

Motorists are encouraged to use alternate routes and be mindful of paving crews working in and near the roadway.

The paving work is expected to be complete on Thursday, November 9 around 7:00 a.m.

This paving is one of the final steps in the city’s South Main Street and Martin Luther King Jr., Way roadway improvement project.

Once the paving is finished, all lanes of travel will reopen by the end of next week.
