City Hosts Stormwater Utility Fee Credit Workshop

Harrisonburg, Va. – The city of Harrisonburg’s Public Works Department will host two upcoming workshops to provide resources on the stormwater utility fee credit program.

Staff will be at the Harrisonburg Farmers Market on Tuesday, May 15 and Tuesday, May 22 from 8:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. The goal is to assist property owners in applying for and participating in the stormwater utility fee credit program.

The current fee is $6 per 500 square feet of impervious surface.

“Our goal is to educate and assist as many property owners as we can to continue building this program,” explained Rebecca Stimson, stormwater compliance specialist with the Public Works Department.

These workshops are a great opportunity to ask questions, apply for the program, and learn how to reduce fees by up to 50 percent. Filling out an application typically takes less than 15 minutes.

For additional information on the stormwater utility fee credit program or to sign up for a monthly e-newsletter, visit www.HarrisonburgVa.gov/stormwater-utility.
