HRECC TO HOST CAREER NIGHT

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
May 29, 2018

Harrisonburg, VA –The Harrisonburg-Rockingham Emergency Communications Center (HRECC) is hosting a career night on Wednesday, May 30.

Anyone interested in a career in emergency communications is encouraged to attend this event. During this informal event staff members from the HRECC will be on hand to answer questions, provide information and offer guided tours of the facility to attendees. Personnel from the city of Harrisonburg's Human Resources Department will also be in attendance to review the city's benefits program.

The event is open to those who are interested in applying for a position in the ECC and to anyone who has already submitted their application for employment. The HRECC is currently recruiting for the positions of basic communicator and ECC technician.

"This event provides a great opportunity for potential candidates to be able to see exactly what the job entails," said Dee Dee Sencindiver, operations manager with HRECC.

The event is being held at the HRECC located on the 5th floor of the Public Safety Building at 101 North Main Street in Harrisonburg. Parking is available in front of the building or in the Wolfe Street parking deck.

Career night will run from 6:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. To learn more about the HRECC and to apply online visit www.hrecc.org/employment.

The HRECC looks forward to hosting this event and we encourage everyone interested to stop by for a first-hand look at this great career!
