HPD Re-Establishes Explorer Program

The Harrisonburg Police Department (HPD) announces a plan to reestablish the Explorer Program within the department. The Department is very excited in bringing the Explorer Program to the agency to continue their efforts to partnership with community youth.

The program is still in its infancy but the goal is to establish the guidelines and application process throughout this summer. By the end of the summer and prior to school starting, HPD will begin the program for those selected.

“As police chief of the Harrisonburg Police Department, I am pleased to invite those interested in the Explorer Program to participate in this exciting program that is being formed amongst a group of young adults, who share an interest in law enforcement careers,” said Chief Stephen Monticelli.

The participants will have the opportunity to pursue their interest in law enforcement by working closely with HPD officers. In addition, participants will have the opportunities for service, social and other activities.

Additional information, including the application process and upcoming deadlines, will be posted to HPD’s website and Facebook page.
