Your Police Department Wants Your Input

“Part of my commitment to the residents and businesses in the Friendly City of Harrisonburg is to assure that the Harrisonburg Police Department is doing it’s very best to serve and protect the citizens and visitors to our community”, Police Chief Stephen Monticelli says. On September 14th the Harrisonburg Police Department is starting a campaign to hear from the community how we are doing.

“Community safety is paramount. And superior service by our police officers is essential,” says Chief Stephen Monticelli.

In order to make sure we are getting the job done and meeting the expectations of the community the Harrisonburg Police Department is asking residents, business owners, and our students to take a few minutes and fill out a citizen survey between September 14, 2015 and October 5, 2015.

We have posted a citizen survey on our website. We invite you to go to www.harrisonburgva.gov/police and give us your honest feedback.

“Harrisonburg can be proud of its well-trained and highly professional police force. But we are always looking at our operations to see what can be improved,” Monticelli said. That’s where our citizens come in. By completing our citizen survey you will be providing the kind of input the Police Department needs for our geographic officers to understand the quality of life concerns in the different areas around our community.

You can complete the citizen survey online or get a printed copy of the survey at the Public Safety Building, City Municipal Building, Cecil F. Gilkerson Community Activities Center (Parks and Rec), or Lucy F. Simms Continuing Education Center, or from any police officer. If you cannot get to one of these locations contact your Police Department and we will get you one.

Please help us do our best to serve you. Fill out the survey today.
