Commodity/Service: Repair Services for vertical turbine pumps

Contractor/Vendor: RUHRPUMPEN, 2305 56th Street, Hampton, Virginia. 23661

This Contractor/Vendor was selected because:

This contractor was selected because:

- The personnel at this vendor are familiar with the makeup and history of our pumps and this service required an initial investigation to be performed immediately before any cost analysis could be performed.
- The personnel at the Public Utilities Department are very familiar and acceptable of the staff/performance at this vendor.
- The turnaround time was much shorter than typical for this repair with other vendors.
- The cost estimate was typical of past work performed by other vendors.

Nature of the Emergency:

The Department of Public Utilities incurred a double pump failure to its North River Pump Station. During the time of repair to these pumps, the City of Harrisonburg is in risk of a third pump failure that would require the City to engage significant conservation measures to its customer base. Under the conservation measures essential water service would be discontinued with expected economic and health / welfare impacts.
